Pin the centre piece with teapots centrally on the front of the cushion and stitch on all around 0.5 cm from the edge. Lay pale pink bobbin lace over the seam and pin, so that the lace hides the neaten edge beneath it. Place the lace in small folds at the corners. Pin the striped satin ribbon over the join in the lace starting from the lower right corner, leaving the ends projecting an equal distance. Make the corners slant by folding the ribbon at a 45 degree angle around the corner. Secure the satin ribbon and lace with a quilting topstitched seam. Tie the satin ribbon in a bow, cutting off the ends to equal lengths. On each long edge of the cushion backs iron 2 folds each 1 cm wide and stitch the seam edges close to the edge. Lay the seam edges of the cushion backs wrong side to right side on top of one another, so that a 37 x 37 cm square is formed. Pin the backs right side to right side to the front. Stitch all around 1 cm from the seam, iron and neaten the overlying seams. Turn the cushion to the right side through the closure; ease the edges into shape and iron.

Fold the ribbons right side to right side, mark a 45 degree angle at the end of each. Stitch the ribbons starting from the centre of the long edges leaving a 6 cm long turning slit. Trim seam allowances and clip at an angle at the corners. Iron and turn.

Shape the ribbons and iron them, iron the seam allowance to the inside at the slit. Pin the ribbons at a width of 0.5 cm from the outer edges of the cushion from corner to corner and tack, leaving the end projecting for equal lengths. Stitch on the ribbons to the edges of the cushions on the right side, at the same time sewing the turning slit closed. Loosely tie the projecting ribbons on the corners.
